JERICO: Behind the Scenes

Jericho fans will not be disappointed when the show returns for Season 2 on Tuesday, February 12 (10/9c on CBS). “There’s so much action,” coexecutive producer Karim Zreik promises. “We put a lot of time and energy into these episodes.” As Jericho—and the country—try to rebuild after last year’s mayhem, Jake (Skeet Ulrich) will land a new job, surprise guests will return from Season 1 and, Zreik says, “In the middle of the season, one of the characters will do something to change the course of the show.” Sounds explosive.

▲ “We dug a 220-foot trench, dumped 246 gallons of gasoline in it and lit it on fire,” Zreik says of the explosion in the battle between Jericho and New Bern.

▼ “It’s very much like a family,” Zreik (below left, with Ashley Scott and Ulrich) says of the cast and crew. “It’s a good vibe on set.”
